
NAMIBIA – ENDLESS HORIZONS

WEDNESDAY, 14 APRIL 2010 AT 6.00 P.M.

The Royal Geographical Society
1 Kensington Gore
London
SW7

(Entrance is at the top of Exhibition Road, SW7)

NAMIBIA TOURISM PRESENTS:

An evening with:

Benedict Allen who will speak about his thousand mile journey along the remote Skeleton Coast (named after the bleached bones and scattered remains of shipwrecks washed up on its shore), where the Namib Desert meets the Atlantic Ocean in south-western Africa. Benedict trained three camels single-handedly and walked them up the coast.

Author, explorer, TV filmmaker-presenter and international motivational speaker, Benedict Allen is best known for his arduous expeditions to remote corners of the globe, journeys famously achieved not with a satellite phone, GPS or any of the usual "backup" but by undertaking a testing journey after a period of training alone with a remote indigenous community. These and other ventures are depicted in his ten books - including two best sellers - and six BBC television series.

Raising funds in aid of the AfriCat Foundation

Chris Packham, television presenter, wildlife expert, photographer and author with a passionate concern for conservation and the environment will speak about his visit to AfriCat at the end of last year.
Chris has travelled the world in pursuit of all the things that slime, sting and scratch, but remain close to his heart.

Chris Packham will also have a selection of framed photographs on display in the Pavilion (adjacent to the RGS entrance) from Monday, 12 April. These will be available for sale and prints can be ordered during the evening.

* Cash bar before and afterwards

Raffle prize: Complimentary overnight flights with Air Namibia and a 3-night all inclusive stay for 2 people at Okonjima's Suite. Tickets can be purchased at the RGS on Wednesday evening.
